

Comment No. 1

From: Naoki Matsuo - Climate Experts [mailto:n_matsuo@climate-experts.info]

Sent: Tuesday, January 19, 2016 9:10 PM

To: ke-pm-pi@jcm.go.jp

Subject: Public input(Methodology) KE_PM001

Methodology No.: KE_PM001

Version: Ver1.0

Title: Electrification of communities using Micro hydropower generation

Comment: Shown below

Name: Naoki Matsuo

Affiliated Organization: Climate Experts, Ltd.

E-mail: n_matsuo@climate-experts.info

Country: Japan

The emission factors set as the default specifies the CDM methodologies as the sources.

But the reason why those are appropriate was not shown in the methodology.

Does JCM say that “believe CDM methodologies blindly”?

If JCM does not like such blind approval or want to be independent scheme, I believe that JCM methodology shall check the underlying method of the source (i.e., CDM methodology) to evaluate such emission factors and show the reason why they are appropriate under JCM.